The MixHer series debuted December 8th 2023 during Art Basel week in Miami, Florida with a public DJ brunch with over 25 female DJs, radio personalities and hosts in attendance, plus over 250 RSVPs. The launch event featured an exclusive listening experience with up coming artist Maxine Ashley. The listening experience offered complimentary food and drinks for invited DJs and media, on-site Q&A with artist and record label executives plus a new music premier for guests in attendance. Label executives were able to obtain social media content, contact information and music feedback on their artist's new album during the event. Check out the official recap video
